Is Produced by the Fields and Groves

The Mill of Plenty a Float in Today's Parade

The story of productiveness of the lands of Orange county was told in the Parade of Products this morning. As the floats passed by, there was shown the products, which in the aggregate bring to this county each year a sum of money in excess of $12,500,000.

The rich lowlands, the fertile orchard lands, the productive fields and groves, the products of the foothills and the valley were pictured. You may know them by their products.

The parade started promptly on time. The queen in her carriage pleased the big crowd of people who had gathered. The streets were lined with a gathering of many thousands.

Following the parade the exhibition grounds were opened, and the 1910 Carnival of Products is now in full swing.

The floats used in today's parade were new in design, and were beautifully decorated. Yet the object of the parade, that of showing the county's productiveness, was never lost sight of.

City Marshal Edwards and Officer Cervantes, elegantly mounted, led the parade. Grand Marshal J. C. Metzgar, mounted on Hancock Johnson, owned by Ollie Blom of Garden Grove, was attended by four aides, Dean Johnston, Sheriff Lacy, J. O. Forster, W. J. Lindsey and W. T. Curtis.

The Santa Ana City Band and its music escorted Queen Emeline I. Outriders for the queen were Gilbert Williamson, Dr. Mantor, G. S. Crowell and Frank Forster.

The Queen and Her Court

Four fine grey horses drew the queen's carriage. Queen Emeline proved to be both gracious and beautiful indeed. She wore a gown of apricot cashmere de sole, and a robe of maroon velvet, making the appearance of the attractive lady truly queenly. Her pages, Misses Juanita Metzgar and Edna Hamaker, were as pretty and trim as any queen could ask.

The queen's court, chaperoned by Mrs. Carl Strock, dressed in blue messaline, rode in a tallyho covered with white plumes. The young ladies, all dressed in white, made one of the prettiest pictures of the parade.

Little Delbert Oscar Johnson, son of A. W. Johnson of Old Newport, is to be counted in the queen's retinue. He was queen's sheriff. Mounted on a tiny black Shetland, Searchlight by name, the lad attracted much attention. On his head was a white plumed hat, and to his coat was pinned Sheriff Lacy's badge.

The Board of Supervisors, the Santa Ana Trustees, the members of the board of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, in automobiles, came next.

Second Division

Rev. J. A. Stevenson led the second division with his aides, Charles Walters, H. A. Terwilliger, Gus Ward, Walter Meyers and J. G. Morrow.

A float prepared by the Carnival of Products executive committee in honor of the Odd Fellows, came first in the line of floats. The carnival's tribute to the Odd Fellows was a float mounted with the letters, "I. O. O. F." done in green fern, and three huge links outlined cleverly in oranges. On the pedestal appeared "Welcome," made with kaffir corn

WARD OF RIVERSIDE CHOSEN GRAND JUNIOR WARDEN

The fifty-sixth annual session of the Grand Encampment of California, I. O. O. F., convened at 10 o'clock this morning in Spurgeon's hall, Grand Patriarch H. F. G. Wulff of San Francisco, presiding.

Routine work occupied the attention of the meeting until about 11 o'clock, when balloting for officers took place. The following were elected to hold office during the ensuing term:

Grand Patriarch—S. B. Force, San Francisco.
Grand High Priest—T. E. Cooley, San Jose.
Grand Senior Warden—Dr. Geo. E. Davis, San Francisco.
Grand Scribe—Wm. H. Barnes, San Francisco.
Grand Treasurer—Chas. E. Benedict, San Francisco.
Grand Junior Warden—Geo. F. Ward, Riverside.
Grand Treasurer—F. A. Week of No. 27; E. Flanders, No. 1; M. P. Forbes, No. 26 (all of San Francisco).
Grand Representative—H. F. G. Wulff, Sacramento.

There was but one contest, that for grand junior warden, which was won by George F. Ward of Riverside with 169 votes against R. S. Adams of Petaluma, 98, and I. T. Bell of Visalia, 27.

TIMES DISASTER CLUES TIGHTENED

Believed Seven Men Engaged
In Plot—Burns Will Not Take Sides

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—It now seems sure that at least seven men were engaged in the actual carrying out of the plot to destroy the Times office. Convincing evidence has been obtained showing that three men had to do with the procuring of the dynamite at Glant, this state, and its delivery to those who made use of it in Los Angeles on the fatal first day of October. That the procurers of the great quantity were only a part of the active work now seems evident and the carrying out of the plans seems to have been in the hands of others now out of reach but on whose trail the investigators are making rapid progress. Much might be said to show just how far that progress has gone but it would be perverse of the end that it is hoped to reach within the next day or two.

SHERIFF'S POSSE PURSUES
2 DYNAMITING SUSPECTS

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 6.—County officers yesterday afternoon started in pursuit of two men believed to be the dynamiters responsible for the Times disaster. The first clew was received this afternoon from Guasti, a station just east of Ontario, when E. T. Poffman, an orange rancher, saw two men enter his grove and seat themselves under one of the trees.

According to Poffman, he came up stealthily behind them and was able to overhear a portion of their conversation. From this he gathered that they had hailed from San Francisco and

The per capita tax was fixed at 40c for the general fund and 25c for mileage of delegates, making the expenses of the grand encampment the unusually low rate of 65 cents per capita.

By unanimous vote Santa Cruz was chosen as the meeting place for the next grand encampment. There were 293 past chiefs in attendance at the session this morning, the largest number ever in attendance at a session of the grand encampment in California.

To a Register man General Barnes, for many terms grand scribe, made the following statement:

"Words fail to express the appreciation that we, the visiting chevaliers and officers of the grand encampment feel for the many, many kindnesses and courtesies shown us by the citizens of Santa Ana. On behalf of the ladies of our party especially, I wish to say that their appreciation is very keen. The constant kind attentions they have received have contributed much to their comfort and enjoyment. Santa Ana is entertaining us in a way that we will never forget, and as we go abroad over the length and breadth of California, we will each and all gladly sing the praises of Santa Ana."

LABOR LEADERS TO SEEK FOR PEACE

J. Stitt Wilson Not to be Put Up As a Gubernatorial Candidate

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Fearing a split among the delegates, G. S. Brower of San Francisco, today withdrew his resolution endorsing J. Stitt Wilson for the Socialist gubernatorial candidate, at the state labor convention. He said he believed it was unwise to allow even a semblance of disagreement to creep into the convention at the present time.

Andrew Gallagher created a sensation by denouncing the high initiation fee system.

Resolutions were passed prescribing sanitary conditions in bake shops, and urging free text books in all state schools. Pending the report of the special investigating committee, the resolution demanding retraction by newspaper which blamed unionism for the Times disaster, was laid over.

Officers will be elected this afternoon. Bakersfield is expected to get the next convention.

ROYALTIES FLEEING ON WAY TO ENGLISH SHELTER

Fighting Believed to be Going on In Provinces—Officers of Republic Named

LISBON, Oct. 6.—Provisional President Braga today telegraphed the foreign offices throughout the world, formally announcing the establishment of the republic. The provisional government guarantees public order and safety, according to the message.

REPUBLIC'S PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT NAMED

LISBON, Oct. 6.—The capital is now completely in the hands of the Republicans, who have formed a provisional government, with Theophile Braga as president. A new national flag of red and green is flying over all public buildings, including the town hall.

King Manuel, with the Queen Mother Amelie, and his grandmother, the Queen Dowager Maria Pia, has taken refuge at Mafra, twenty-five miles from Lisbon.

Already the Sanish minister, in full uniform has called to pay his respects to the Republican leaders.

It is impossible to estimate the number of those killed or wounded in yesterday's fighting, but it is expected to reach several hundred.

The provisional government follows:

President—Theophile Braga.
Minister of Justice—Alfonso Costa.
Minister of Foreign Affairs—Bernardino Machado.
Minister of Finance—Brazilio Telles.
Minister of Public Works—Antonio Luiz Gomez.
Minister of War—Col. Barretto.
Minister of Marine—Amaro Axavado Gomez.
Minister of the Interior—Antonio Almeida.
Civil Governor of Lisbon—Eusebio Leao.

REPUBLIC SURE OF BEING SUCCESSFUL

LISBON, Oct. 6.—Senor Don Alfonso Costa, the provisional minister of justice, announced today that the royal family has fled from Portugal. No specific details were vouchsafed, but the statement repudiated the story that Manuel is safe at Mafra, north of Lisbon, rallying forces. He said:

"There is no doubt about the republic's complete success. Civil war is unlikely and within a few days we expect the provinces to support us like the Lisbonites."

CLASHES BETWEEN POLICE AND REPUBLICANS FREQUENT

BARCELONA, Oct. 6.—Constant clashes between the police and Republicans are occurring today. The situation is rapidly getting beyond control and as a final resort Madrid has been asked to send reinforcements to the police. Similar conditions exist in other cities. Republicans hoisted their flags everywhere and the police are trying to dislodge them. Enthusiasm is running high.

Why Wallace is Wanted

A. J. Wallace is wanted for lieutenant governor, not because he is a jolly good fellow who can lean up against a bar and make a crowd roar with a story. That is not his style. He is wanted because he is a careful, calculating, shrewd judge of human nature, and will know how to constitute the state senate committees and how to conduct the business of that deliberative body as to get the most and best work out of it in the shortest time. And he'll not round up all the off-color legislative mavericks in the bunch, and pen them by themselves as a committee on public morals!—California Weekly.

CROWN WAS PLACED UPON QUEEN EMELINE THE FIRST

Orange county's 1910 Carnival of Products was officially opened last night by the crowning of the queen chosen to reign over the three days festivities, Miss Emeline Petersen, who will go into the carnival history of the county as Queen Emeline I.

The coronation ceremonial was simple but effective and took place shortly after 8 o'clock. Preceded by her four maids of honor, hailing from all sections of the fertile little kingdom of Orange, the lovely queen elect gracefully advanced to the center of the stage of the Grand Opera House, which the announcement of the coronation event had filled to its capacity. Two pages carried the court train of the queen as she moved slowly forward to meet the prime minister of the occasion, Col. O. H. Coulter, and his attendant, Parke S. Roper. In brief, felicitous words, Col Coulter greeted the queen elect and proclaimed her sovereignty over the loyal people of Orange county during the festival of products, then as the charming girl bowed her head, he placed upon it the token of royal power, a golden crown, sparkling with jewels, and presented her with a jeweled scepter.

Seated on the velvet canopied and elaborately carved throne, Queen Emeline received the keys of the city from Mayor McFadden, whose proclamation announced her as the ruler of the Carnival. The striking ceremonial was quickly over and the pageantry of the event passed almost as a dream.

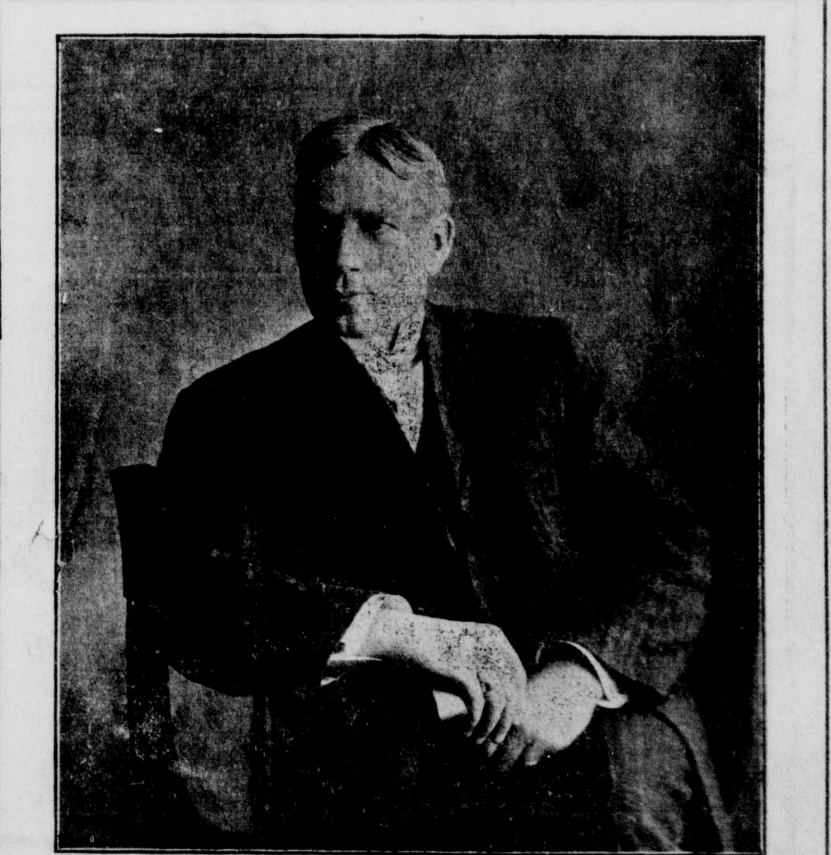

The exquisite coronation gown worn by Queen Emeline was of white messaline silk, its soft sheen being richly enhanced by lovely hand wrought embroidery on deep hem, yoke and sleeves. An overdress of dainty net was bordered with handsome point lace and decorated with seed pearls. The gown was made decollete and en traine with magnificent court robe and stoles of royal purple velvet pendant from the shoulders. Gold passementerie with hand embroidery of purple pansies decorated the robe and stoles and carried out the Carnival colors of purple and gold. Chiffon in soft folds covered with spangled net formed the flaring Medici collar of the robe.

During the coronation, the fair maids of honor were ranged on either side of the elaborately carved throne that was canopied and upholstered in rich velvet. The maids, Misses Mary Wakeham of Santa Ana, Marie Bushard of Huntington Beach, Daisy Edwards of Westminster, Agnes Rimpau of Anaheim, Goldie Brentlinger of Garden Grove, Agnes Hardin of Buena Park, Ellen Proud of La Habra, Marian Collins of Newport, Helen Crumer and Edna Brann of Orange, were exceedingly attractive in white messaline silk gowns made with elegant simplicity. Each girl carried two huge, fluffy, yellow chrysanthemums, the only touch of color in their costumes.

The pages, Juanita Metzgar and Edna Hamaker, wore costumes of white satin.

A vaudeville performance took up the remainder of the evening, the queen and her maids of honor with the court chaperon, Mrs. Carl Strock, handsomely costumed in pink messaline, witnessing the performance from boxes where they had retired after the coronation.

HIGH COST OF LIVING CUTS SAVINGS

Banks Will Suffer From the Withdrawal and Cutting Down of Deposits

BANKERS ASSOCIATION WARNED OF CONDITIONS

Money Stringency Predicted if Foreign Bankers Shall Fear
More Cotton Frauds

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—In an address before the American Bankers Association William R. Greer, secretary of the Cleveland Savings and Loan Society, declared the high cost of living must be reduced soon or otherwise the banks must suffer the results. He declared the high cost of living was felt by the banks in reduced deposits. He said:

"While the aggregate deposits are larger now than a year ago, this is merely because of accrued interest. It is a fact that the deposits of the savings banks throughout the country are being withdrawn. This undoubtedly will continue until prices reach the proper level."

Ed Wealer of New Orleans, president of the Association's clearing house section, sounded a warning by predicting the tightening of the money market throughout the country the coming winter. He declared that this can only be averted by assuring the foreign bankers that they will not again be victimized by cotton frauds as they were last year when they lost eight millions of dollars.

40 MILES THROUGH ORANGE COUNTY AND NEVER OUT OF SIGHT OF BEAUTIFUL ORCHARDS

During the past season shipments of oranges and lemons from Orange county reached nearly 2500 carloads at an approximate value of a million and a half of dollars. One may drive for forty miles through Orange county and never for a moment be out of sight of a grove or orchard.

Shipments of wheat and barley represent the crops of 40,000 acres in Orange county, yet strange as it may appear, the hens of Orange county produce more actual revenue than the entire grain output, a fact that speaks well for the hens as well as the climate.

There are 14,000 acres in beans. There are countless orchards of peaches, apricots and other deciduous fruits.

There is perhaps no section of all Southern California where diversified farming may be carried on so successfully or where the soil conditions are more perfect than on the ranches in Orange county.

The rainfall is more than satisfactory. In 1905 it exceeded thirteen inches, in 1906 it was more than twenty inches, in 1907 it was nearly twenty-one inches, and in 1908 about eighteen inches.

Clarence McFadden received $1300 in a season for the fruit of 110 trees. Charles Wagner received $1000 net for the yield of four acres of trees. C. Paulsen was paid $2000 net from 230 trees. William Berkenstock received net from fifty-four trees the sum of $1000 in cash, or a total of nearly $7000 from four acres. N. P. Robertson marketed his cabbage crop, the product of twenty acres averaging eight tons to the acre at $18 per ton net, and market quotations March 18, '09, was $40 per ton. It will be seen that cabbage pays some in this section. Three hundred and sixty thousand dollars was realized from 100 carloads of walnuts. Forty-five thousand dollars was obtained from 300 carloads of cabbage. Miscellaneous vegetables amounted to fully 200 carloads. Twenty-five thousand tons of hay and grain were also shipped. Cattle and calves, milk and butter and live and dressed poultry were also shipped in large quantities. Out of the 2,800,000 eggs shipped last year from Orange county a large portion came from the section in and about the Yorba Linda ranches.

Crude oil shipments were also very important. The oil lands are north of the Yorba Linda ranches, on the Olinda branch of the Santa Fe railway, which traverses the tract. Last year's oil shipments represent a value of nearly a million and a quarter dollars. Quite recently paying wells have been bored in the vicinity of the Yorba Linda ranches, seeming to indicate the existence of oil throughout that entire section.—Fullerton News.

S. B. FORCE IS CHOSEN HEAD OF ODD FELLOWS

a member of Rose Rebekah Lodge No. 224.

Force today holds the following additional offices: Chaplain of his Subordinate Lodge, High Priest of his Encampment, Assistant Adjutant General of the Patriarchs Militant of California, Grand High Priest of the Grand Encampment of California, Drill Master and Outside Guardian of his Rebekah Lodge, and is also an officer in two branches of the Masonic fraternity.

From the foregoing briefly told fraternal record, it will be seen that Force has not been and is not a drone in the fraternal vineyard. On the contrary, he takes a lively interest in all that pertains to Oddfellowship, and has been and is a constant and regular attendant at the meetings of all branches, and a close observer of details. He has always been known as a quiet, but able worker from the day he entered the Order, familiar with every detail of every office, filling any chair with dignity and ability, and during his term as Deputy winning commendations on every hand by his perfect installations and presiding qualities. By his untiring activity and zeal he has earned his promotions and the highest honors of the Order.

APPLE SHOW AT WATSONVILLE

Watsonville to Display Her Rosy, Round Apples at a Festival

The citizens of Watsonville have made elaborate arrangements for a festival in their city next week. Immense tents have been placed and great interest aroused. In the beginning it was the intention of the committee on arrangements to make this a local affair but they have generously extended the privilege of display to the state. Judging from the quality and quantity presented to the Registrar by the Watsonville Canton No. 32, the Watsonvilleites are perfectly safe in a "show down" of her apples with those of any section of California.

Implements and tools in apple growing will also be on display for the growers.

Watsonville apples and strawberries are already thoroughly known and the $15.00 rate offered from Los Angeles will surely attract many travelers from Southern California.

Dog Bites Off Boy's Tongue
Philadelphia, Pa.—Feeding his pet dog in a novel way, allowing the animal to take bits of food from his mouth, Francis Zoraskie, six years old, lost the tip of his tongue. The dog clipped off a bite in taking the food. The boy was taken to Mt. Sinai hospital, but is not seriously hurt.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has a gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weakness and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of cures—more professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held as strictly confidential. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

FINE EXHIBITS SHOWN IN TENT

Attractive Booths Tell Story of Productive, Prosperous Communities

The big exhibition grounds, with entrances on Main and Bush streets, contain the exhibit tent. The big tent is occupied with booths of various communities of the county. The best variety of products raised in this county and their unusual excellence are displayed.

One who has gone through the big tent cannot do otherwise than exclaim that Orange county grows nearly everything on earth.

In the center is the booth erected in honor of the Odd Fellows. It shows the cereal industries of the county, which industries combined produce $2,500,000 annually.

In the west half of the tent are the booths of Anaheim, La Habra, Buena Park, Berrydale, Huntington Beach and the Japanese residents. The western end is occupied by the Japanese tea garden, a unique, attractive place, where tea is served.

In the eastern half of the tent are booths of Garden Grove, a truly wonderful booth, Newport Beach, Orange county and Santa Ana, Tustin, Orange county coal and Orange County Bee Club.

Each of these booths is deserving of particular attention. The pumpkins and grapes of La Habra, the tomatoes, potatoes and chiles of Anaheim, the oranges, lemons and apricots of beautiful Tustin, the vast variety from Garden Grove, the sugar beets and celery of Huntington Beach, the new creations in squash and casabas from Berrydale, the fine quality of coal from the Santiago, the fine display of the bee industry, the chiles and celery of the Japanese—all these things and other things on each booth bring forth high praise and commendation, and bespeak enterprise and thrift on the part of the exhibitors.

D. W. McDannald, who has charge of the exhibition tent, will write something of the exhibition for the register.

COMMITTEE BUSY TALKING DISTRICT

ANAHEIM, Oct. 6.—Commissioners Mills and Stockwell are accomplishing good work in agitating among the land owners of the Santa Ana river district the question of forming a protection district, the organization to take in all whose lands are in the section that overflowed last winter not in any protection district now. They are visiting the various localities interested in the project and causing committees to be appointed by mass meetings, these committees to work locally for the formation of the protection district.

The commissioners have just visited Fullerton, Westminster, Los Alamitos, Buena Park, Orange, Santa Ana, and other places and find the sentiment strongly in favor of the district.

ELECTRIC DECORATIONS CUT INTO BY MISCREANT

Some miscreant last night cut the wires in the beautiful electric decorations of the Peek & Liebig furniture store. The big windows outlined with purple and gold lights and the sign with the firm name also peeked out in the colored lights, made one of the handsomest electric displays shown during the week, and the person or persons who was guilty of the mean deed of cutting the wire, should be dealt with severely. The officers are on the outlook for the trespasser.

BETTER THAN STATE FAIR

Judge Praises Poultry Exhibit—Awarding of Prizes Being Made

The poultry exhibit was all in place last night and this morning at an early hour the awarding of prizes began. Judge S. Tyler of Pasadena, is doing the awarding. He is a practical poultryman of many years' experience and a high authority on all matters pertaining to poultry, having served as judge at several state fairs. To a Register man the judge this morning made the statement that the local exhibit was as good, quality of the fowls considered, as he had ever seen at a state fair. When one considers the figures prominently displayed at the poultry exhibit: "Last year Orange county sold poultry, $150,000; eggs, $250,000," one realizes that this industry is no small part of the assets of the "biggest little county on earth."

Many coops of ducks, geese, turkeys, pigeons, rabbits, etc., are also on display.

FREE SPINELESS CACTUS

Government Will Distribute 10 Tons of Cuttings to Ranchers

The United States Department of Agriculture will distribute in the spring of 1911 about ten tons of spineless prickly pear cuttings. The stock is grown mainly at Chico, Cal., and at Brownsville, Tex. Out of thirty varieties which the department has grown in the past, eight or ten varieties are now being propagated for distribution to those who may wish to test them as an economic crop.

These plants will not grow successfully outside of California, the coastal region of Florida, Texas, south of the Texas-Mexican railway, and Southern Arizona, or where the temperature is below 20 degrees Fahrenheit for any length of time. All applications should be made to the office of Farm Management, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., before the first of January, 1911.

COMPETITIVE DRILL WORK

Eight Teams Took Part in the Contests on Square Yesterday Afternoon

The competitive drill yesterday afternoon was attended by a large crowd of interested citizens. The grand stand was filled to its capacity and the drill ground on every side was lined with a solid mass of autos, carriages and foot spectators. The Cantons entered from the north side and everything progressed without a hitch, as soon as one Canton left the field another took its place with no wait between. To the uninformed it would appear that the contest was very close, the different Cantons going through their movements without a mistake. The award will be made Friday evening, at 8 p. m.

EXPECTS TO SUE AS RESULT OF ARREST

Anaheim Gazette: Attorney Homer G. Ames, counsel for Henry Oelkers, said yesterday that he would institute proceedings in the superior court of Orange county, on behalf of Henry Oelkers, and against Mrs. William Konig, to recover $5000 for malicious prosecution, consequent upon his arrest last week on a charge preferred against him by Mrs. Konig, alleging misdemeanor. Oelkers was accused by Mrs. Konig with the sale of two bottles of wine, valued at $1.50, and accused him of appropriating the money to his own uses.

Oelkers was placed under arrest in this city, and taken to Justice Pfeiffer's court at Orange, where the complaint was issued at the suggestion of District Attorney Davis. He gave bail in the sum of $50, and was released from custody. He employed Attorney Ames to defend him, and a jury trial was asked for. The trial was to have been heard on Thursday, but the charge was withdrawn by Mrs. Konig, and Oelkers was discharged.

SUGAR MEN COMING FOR OPENING BIDS

Anaheim Gazette: Manager Hadsell of the sugar factory received a telegram from Frederick Steigerwald, at present at Lyons, N. Y., stating he and Mr. Egge would arrive in Anaheim next week, when bids for the erection of the sugar factory buildings will be opened and award made.

Mr. Egge has been engaged in dismantling the sugar factory at Lyons, and will ship accepted parts of the machinery here. New machinery and structural steel will also be shipped by Mr. Egge, and initial shipments are looked for in the near future.

Santa Fe headquarters east have approved the building of spur tracks into the factory grounds, and work up on the line will begin in time to receive the first carload of machinery.

HAPPY, HAPPY, USE TIZ

A Marvel for Sore Feet. Acts Right Off

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or drag up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

CALIFORNIA CASE TO BE TRIED IN MINNESOTA

Los Angeles and San Francisco Merchants to Fight Switching Charges in St. Paul Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Attorney Seth Mann will leave for St. Paul Friday to fight the cases of the San Francisco and Los Angeles merchants who consider illegal the switching charges imposed by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads of $2.50 a carload on merchants having spur tracks. When a merchant wants a carload of goods delivered on his track, the railroads charge him $2.50 for shunting the car to his warehouse or place of business. When a car is loaded at a warehouse or place of business, the railroads charge $2.50 for hauling it off the spur track.

The merchants declare there are only three cities in the United States where the railroads impose a switching charge. These are San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. In San Francisco alone this is said to amount to about $200,000 a year. Los Angeles and San Francisco merchants have complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission that this charge is illegal.

The Santa Fe and Southern Pacific have sought an injunction to prevent this charge being interfered with. The roads do not impose the charges on Sacramento, or Stockton, or Fresno, or other California commercial centers, but only in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego.

There is a provision in the law that a railroad may seek an injunction in any circuit where it has general offices. The Santa Fe has offices in Topeka, Kansas, and an injunction has been sought in the court there whose circuit embraces Kansas and Minnesota.

HUNTERS TO LEASE POND

Yorba Reservoir to Become Shooting Property of E. W. Crowther

ANAHEIM, Oct. 6.—The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Anaheim Union Water Co. was held Oct. 1.

A deed of right of way from P. R. Donahoe et ux through the Donahoe tract, Anaheim, was on motion accepted and same was ordered recorded and filed.

A communication from Daniel S. Halladay in regard to his application for the purchase of property at Yorba, was ordered placed on file.

A petition was received from E. W. Crowther et al, offering to pay a specified amount for the exclusive privilege of shooting at the Yorba reservoir for the ensuing year, provided petitioners are also given the privilege of reserving at the same terms each succeeding year for the next four years thereafter, at the option of petitioners. Moved by Sherwood, seconded by Bradford that it is the desire of this board that this petition of the stockholders for the renting of shooting privileges should be granted and that Superintendent Porter be requested to take up the matter with the attorney and have proper agreement prepared, the same to be presented at the next meeting for approval. Carried.

Communications were received from the Janss Investment Co. with remittance of $10 for two shooting permits at Yorba reservoir, and making inquiry as to the amount of cash in advance that would be charged them for exclusive privilege of shooting at the reservoir for season of 1910-1911. The remittance was ordered returned with the notification that the reservoir had already been leased for a year for shooting purposes.

A communication was received from the Amalgamated Oil Co. enclosing log of well No. 1 located on property leased from the company in the La Habra valley, in response to the request for a copy of same. The letter was ordered placed on file.

An application was received from Wm. Crowther for the construction of a delivery gate at a distance of 35 feet north of the present gate at his property. Mr. Crowther agreed to pay the cost of same. On motion the application was granted.

CORPORATION POLITICS

All up and down the state big crowds have heard from Hiram W. Johnson that the issue on which he is making the final canvass for governor is exactly the same as that on which his preliminary campaign was made. The only difference is that up to August 16th the fight was being made inside the Republican party, but is now carried to the people of the State as a whole.

Briefly stated, his object is to entirely eliminate the Southern Pacific Railroad from the politics of the State. It must be taught to attend strictly to its business interests as such and not seek to control either the legislative or any other department of state.

But why should not a corporation enter the field of politics the same as an individual? They are subject to the laws, and it has been contended that it is necessary for them to take a hand in their making, deciding upon their validity and carrying them into execution. In support of this it is contended that it is with them a matter of self-protection against unreasonable regulations and exactions.

There are many good reasons that can be urged against corporations entering politics that cannot be even mentioned in a brief article, but they can all be summed up in a very few words. It has been the universal experience, in California especially, that when corporations gain control of government they do not stop at the prevention of unreasonable regulations, but actually go to the extreme of making everything they can handle subserve the interests of the corporation, and every exaction that can safely be made is required of the people. Combinations in restraint of trade and the suppression of competition are the objects aimed at and in order to attain these things they place in office only such men as they can use for these purposes.

The "corporate conscience," so called, which really means no conscience at all, is bad enough in business, but when it gets into politics it is ten times worse. To it can be traced the boss, the understrapper, the ward heeler, and all the political rotteness that has been afflicting this country for years. As Roosevelt says, it is a case of property rights against human rights. It is the rule of dollars and not of men. The high price of living can be traced directly to the kind of politics that owes its creation to the great corporations. Big Business is the beast that roams the Jungle of Politics, tearing Human Rights into shreds and destroying every one who dares to interpose himself in their defense.

Insurgency in the Republican party, both in the East and the West, is simply a revolt against Corporation Politics. This has been the fight ever since Roosevelt started it. In its present shape it began in the White House, and from thence it has spread over the country, bringing to the front as strong and good men as any of whom our history can boast.

Four years ago the S. P. Political Bureau had complete control of all the party machinery of this State, and such men as Johnson, Wallace and Stephens had no more show than a citizen of some other state. Then came the voice of Roosevelt and awakened us to political consciousness.

The Republican Nominees
For the Supreme Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—One of the most interesting phases of the state political campaign, which is now in progress, is the canvass being made by Supreme Justice Max C. Sloss and Supreme Justice Henry A. Melvin for re-election. General comment has been aroused in this city and there is no question that an entirely favorable impression has been made by the two distinguished Republican nominees.

In keeping with the dignity of their high positions and in recognition of the essentially non-political character of their offices both Justices Melvin and Sloss are not making a political campaign in the ordinary sense of the word. It goes without saying that neither is making a personal plea for votes. That task has been gladly assumed by thousands of friends who know of their careers upon the bench and of their eminent fitness for the high posts they seek.

Neither is equipped with the familiar paraphernalia of the office-seeker. Neither has his banners, nor his press agents, nor his employed campaigners. A canvass for a place on the Supreme Court of California, where politics and its inevitably dangerous consequences cannot enter, will not permit the customary clap trap of the job chaser. A justice of the Supreme Court has no favor to grant except that of impartial justice. His career in judicial life, his education for the law and his experience in its practice are the pledges of his fairness and his fitness.

And it is significant that both Justices Melvin and Sloss are basing their aspiration for re-election upon a strangely parallel series of qualifications. Both are thorough students of the law. Both are fortified by a complete legal education. Both are graduates of institutions of first-rate standing. Both are admittedly critical ness. We began at the beginning and extorted the Direct Primary. Then these and other good men became possibilities. The Republican party was cleansed from corporate corruption. Now it remains for the State to second the motion and it will be carried with a whoop.

The issue is no longer a party one. As such it has been settled, and now the only question is, "SHALL IT REMAIN SETTLED?" That's the point for us to decide and the only one. The G. O. P. is the dominant party of this State, and it goes without saying that it will remain so. It, therefore, becomes of vital importance that, having cleansed itself of rottenness, it should be sustained in doing so. If it should be defeated and thereby rebuked for doing the very thing for which it ought to be endorsed, it will be goodbye to reform in California for decades to come. The S. P. P. B. is straining every nerve to do this. It can be done only by the defeat of Hiram Johnson and his fellow workers in the cause of honest government.

The S. P. management may not love Bell, and it is to be hoped for his sake that it does not, but we know that it hates Johnson with all the exquisite aversion of which it is known to be capable. Not only so but his defeat would be a victory for corporate politics, and granting that this is all the S. P. could get out of it, it is enough to risk millions on, and this will be done—is being done, in fact. If, then, these statements are borne out by the facts, it becomes the duty of every citizen, regardless of past party affiliations, to support Johnson and his co-workers by every honest and honorable means possible.

HONEST AND EFFICIENT
GOVERNMENT

Do you ever stop to consider statute laws, that is, our legal enactments, our characters, ordinances and the like, in the light of what are known as natural laws? Especial reference is had, in speaking of natural laws, to those which govern our relations with one another. For instance, we enact a law but it does not answer the purpose. Either it is inadequate to the purpose or is not in harmony with some natural law that overrules it. In fact this often makes a law inadequate when it would be otherwise sufficient, because it cannot be adequately enforced. Maybe it cannot be enforced because it has no friends in office, or perhaps because it is out of favor with the community where its enforcement is attempted.

Again, we may have the best characters and ordinances, and a community that is fully in harmony with them, and still something is wrong. Evidently some natural law is working against them. In spite of the seeming perfection of the system, taxes and lawlessness both increase. Graft is strongly suspected and after a long time some of it is uncovered. When you try to bring it to book, however, you find it uphill business. What's the matter? There seems to be nothing the matter with the laws but they are either perverted or ignored entirely. A man with half an eye can see that there is SOMETHING wrong, but what, is the question.

If you would call in an expert publicist he would point out to you wherein your system failed to recognize and take account of certain laws that exist in the very nature of things with the result that while the machinery is right, it has fallen into bad hands. Incompetency and corruption have worked together to render it worse than useless. It has, in fact, (as has been shown in the cases of San Francisco, Chicago, and New York, and as doubtless could be shown in countless other cities,) become the ally of the lawless element, and is made to suppress honesty instead of rascality.

Here is where municipal government has broken down in many cities and is in the way of breaking down everywhere. As The Register has before pointed out, almost any government will answer the purpose if kept exclusively in competent and honest hands. But whenever it falls into the hands of politicians, it will begin to fall short and will continue to fall short more and more until it fails entirely to meet the demands of a civilized community. Herein is the knottiest problem of municipal government—how to so construct it as to keep it from being a political football to be kicked about and made to serve the purposes of the winning team.

One difficulty is that it is generally gotten up under the supervision of political workers in the first place, and they see to it that it affords the opportunities they want. The very best that can be done, they will get in their work to some extent. No character has yet been tried that is entirely bossproof, but some come nearer it than others.

It is a natural law that the few can be easier managed than the many. This law can be more or less counteracted, first, by doing away with the old ward system; and, second, by substituting for the clique-caucus and convention, or so-called "mass meetings," the nonpartisan direct primary.

There is another natural law to the effect that combinations made on the sly are not apt to be worked in the interest of good government. For instance, a candidate who if elected, would have a number of appointments to make, has an understanding with certain ones to the effect that they or their friends shall be made the beneficiaries of these appointments in case he is successful at the polls. No one, not in the deal, knows about it, and hence you are not aware for whom you are voting when you cast your ballot. This situation might be relieved by compelling every candidate who, if elected, would have the power of appointment, to fill with his nominating petition a list of the appointments he proposes to make if elected. Knowing that his appointees must then be of a character to bear public scrutiny, he will aim to name only men of that character.

No matter how long you have suffered you will find a certain cure in MI-O-NA stomach tablets.

"About six weeks ago I purchased a box of MI-O-NA tablets for an aggravated form of stomach trouble. I had been troubled for four or five years, had tried different physicians and a great many patent remedies, but of no use, until I used MI-O-NA. They entirely relieved me from pain, and I can now eat most any kind of food and relish it."—A. J. Fish, West Carthage, N. Y.

Gift Goes to Redlands to Found Library for Indian Tribes West of Rockies

REDLANDS, Oct. 6.—Andrew Carnegie, "Laird of Skibo," appeared in the role of a benefactor of Redlands and of the American Indian yesterday, when Mrs. E. C. Sterling, president of the Redlands Indian Association, presented to the A. K. Smiley Library trustees, a gift of $500 from Mr. Carnegie for the founding of a department in the library devoted exclusively to the Indian tribes west of the Rocky mountains. He explained that the gift is a memorial to his visit to Redlands a year ago when he was the guest of A. K. Smiley for a day and was welcomed to the city at the A. K. Smiley Library.

Here are a few remarks concerning the child who is fortunate enough to have the Burrows Kindergarten training in our Conservatory. He knows the keyboard thoroughly. He is familiar with the major and minor scales. He has mastered staff notation. He has meter at his finger ends. He has common terminology at the tip of his tongue. He reads quickly, and can play simple tunes at sight. He can write simple pieces from memory on the blackboard and play them from memory also. These are but a few of the things he knows and can do. Watch for further remarks along this line in tomorrow's corner. Conservatory office and studios 204 1/2 East Fourth St. Phone Main 214.

The Dragon Queen

Last night when the crowds returning from the coronation of Queen Emeline at the Grand Opera House, reached the Dragon, they were confronted with a dazzling scene, in one of the big show windows of that popular establishment. They saw a second queen, bedecked in robes of royalty, enthroned in the midst of golden hued flowers, the trailing of greenery and the sumptuous trappings of purple and gold.

Two sides of the miniature palace was formed by the plate glass panes of the window draped with lambrequins of gold fringed purple velvet, while the background was a mass of asparagus ferns dotted with golden California poppies.

On the fourth wall hung a purple silk scroll on which was emblazoned the queen's proclamation encouraging the carnival guests to "enjoy themselves."

On a carpet of royal purple velvet rested the throne, upholstered with the same rich material, with canopy and trappings of velvet of golden hue.

The Dragon queen, who will be enthroned throughout the carnival, is attired in a robe of white satin with court train of ermine bordered purple velvet. Her crown is studded with real diamonds, above which flash ruby and emerald colored stones.

The window scene is one of beauty, and is so apropos to the carnival season as to catch everybody's fancy. It is a product of the skill of F. W. Fuller, who has designed many beautiful window pictures in the past for the Dragon. The rich costume worn by the queen was the tasteful handiwork of Mrs. C. V. Davis. Much time and money was expended in achieving the fetching result, and the window will be remembered as one of the features of carnival week.

Former Queens Were Guests

Mrs. Harold Wickert, formerly Miss Ethel Chapman, the first queen of Orange County's Carnival of Products, and Miss Gertrude Asher, the second queen, were guests of the carnival management last night at the coronation at the Grand Opera House.

Crowning of the Queen

Loyal to the carnival interests, the people of Santa Ana and their guests, the visiting Odd Fellows and their wives, crowded the Grand Opera House last night to witness the coronation of Queen Emeline I. With her charming maids of honor, Miss Petersen, clad in royal robes, made a beautiful appearance and the coronation itself was a picturesque spectacle.

Had the coronation been the beginning and ending of the chapter, the audience would not have regretted being present, but under the infliction of the so-called program given later, it is safe to say that the remainder of the evening was painful to every person of refined tastes in the house. This is especially to be regretted, considering the fact that the guests of honor, the queen and her court, were young, refined girls, and the audience in general composed of representative people of Santa Ana, whose intelligence and moral tone are unquestioned. The coronation event is one deserving the best to be had instead of almost the worst, as given last night. The program was so poor in character and presentation as to be disgusting.

The first number, a Spanish song, rendered by a trio of young girls, was unobjectionable, except that the singers were evidently appearing for the first time as professionals. Of the other numbers, except the dancing of Miss Swan, the least said the better. The greatest merit of the program was its brevity.

It should be said that the local committee had no opportunity to "expurgate" the program, and secured the numbers on recommendation that it considered good.

Rebekah Degree Tonight

Tonight Ramona Rebekah Lodge will put on the Rebekah degree at I. O. O. F. Hall under the auspices of Torosa Rebekah Lodge.

Among honored guests will be Grand President, Mrs. Etta Stewart of Stockton, and Grand Secretary Mrs. Mary E. Doneho of San Francisco, of the state Rebekah Assembly, I. O. O. ### FIRST DAY'S PARADE TELLS THE STORY OF COUNTY'S PRODUCTS

Grains, pepper boughs and plumes were used in decoration.

$5,000,000 Float. "The Mill of Plenty," grinding wealth into four huge horns of plenty, trimmed in barley, attracted much attention, and close inspection showed that it told a wonderful story, for on the horns appeared these: "Oil, $1,642,364 annually," "Beans, $1,024,000; acres, 21,000," "Sugar beets, $1,320,000 in 1910," "Oranges, $1,286,428 in 1910."

Peppers—all kinds—were shown in the next float. Beneath an arbor of beautiful vine leaves and blossoms sat Mrs. E. R. Curtis, dressed in white. Hanging from the arbor were baskets of chilies. Several huge bell peppers, just coloring, were big enough to attract attention alone.

Many Products

Next came a float loaded down with products—melons, pumpkins, corn, barley. The framework was covered with kaffir corn and barley beards. It showed something of the variety of products. Dressed in white, Miss Grace Wells occupied a throne, baskets of apples swinging about her.

A huge walnut in shape, covered with gilded walnuts, represented the $850,000 walnut crop. Corn in the grain and on the stalk covered the pedestal, while the corner pieces were living orange and lemon trees, the fruit hanging from the foliage.

Baskets of Good Things

Baskets—a huge basket filled with the finest pumpkins on earth, smaller baskets of big apples and tomatoes—made up a products float. Every article in every basket was worthy of a prize.

Buena Park was "certainly there with the goods." It was a high-built float, with a lot of fine apples, beets, tomatoes and pumpkins, arranged in tiers. A bunch of fresh hops decorated a pinnacle. Six elegant grey horses drew this float.

Third Division

C. E. Stone, from the north end of the county, led the Third Division. His aides were Sterling Price, Harold Nelson, M. F. Andrade, S. E. Talbert and W. G. Wells.

Langley's Band furnished music as it marched.

One of the most beautiful floats in the parade was that built as a tribute to visiting Rebekahs by the Carnival committee. The background was pink, the decorations ivy and grapes. Upon a beautiful crescent-shaped throne, trimmed with pink pampas plumes, sat enshrined pretty little Doris Wheaton, gown in white, with a big pink bow in her hair. Long arches wound in pink and hung with grape clusters and leaves extended from the corners of the float, meeting above the little maid's seat. Over her head hung a big star decorated with grape leaves and clusters of the fruit, the star and crescent of the throne being the Rebekahs' emblem. This float was decorated by Mrs. George McGill. All along the line of march the float and its occupants were greeted with hearty applause.

Celery Float

The celery float was a bank of celery on a purple pyramid, topped with waving pampas. At each corner a white pillar wound in asparagus ferns was also topped with plumes. Pepper branches with their red berries completed the decorations.

Another pretty celery float bore aloft a purple and gold throne, upon which sat Miss Ida Oederlin, a striking brunette, beautifully gowned in pink, bearing a pink parasol. About the purple dais were bunched bunches of celery white draped about the throne and extending in long festoons to the corners of the float.

Santa Ana Farmers' Club

The members of the Santa Ana Farmers' Club had a float which showed a great deal of painstaking work. At the two front corners rose big stalks of corn, at the others banana trees draped with persimmons, oranges and grapes. Beans, peanuts, apples, squashes, pumpkins, watermelons, nuts, dried apricots, eggplant, etc., banked the body of the float, all being topped with a plow, such as father used to use, wound with red geraniums.

"Products from Old Newport" was a banner that went with a big mass of products, showing what grows in the fertile fields southwest of Santa Ana. Sugar beets, corn, potatoes and other products, some boxed and some loose, formed the base. Bales of alfalfa hay supported pumpkins in which tiny flags were placed.

A huge tomato occupied the center of a float. Strings of peanuts led from the center to the corners. Heaped about the tomato were numerous county products—garden truck of all kinds—held in a frame of corn. This is for a land in which vegetables are sold for huge sums in the aggregate annually, but also for a land where every man may raise in his back yard all the garden he wants.

Japanese Floats

The Japanese residents had two floats in line, both of them remarkably clever. First came "Fuji Yama," the sacred mountain. Cotton represented the snow at the peak. The mountain was made of strawberries, big luscious berries just from the path, a solid surface of strawberries. The second Japanese float was a Japanese house, typical in shape, only celery took the place of bamboo.

Santa Ana Rifle Club

A squad of men from the Santa Ana rifle club rode on a wagon, while a few yards to the rear Dr. Bruner's automobile carried a target, at which the riflemen often fired. The empty cartridges were thrown among the boys of along the street. This feature took much applause.

SOIL CONVENTION IMPORTANT MEETING Scientific Discoveries In Regard to Soil Are Being Presented

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—The object of the soil convention now in session at Blanchard's Hall is to bring before agriculturists the latest achievements of science, and to present in their proper relationship all the factors of soil management. Discussions of broad principles and types of conditions are encouraged at the meetings, which are of great importance to the horticultural and agricultural interests of Southern California.

Prof. A. J. Cook presided over the meetings yesterday morning and afternoon. The morning session was opened with an address by Dr. C. B. Lipman, soil bacteriologist of the College of Agriculture at Berkeley, who used for his subject "The Soil as a Culture Medium; the Relation of Temperature, Moisture and Air as Weeds as Plant Food in Bacterial Development." Dr. Lipman declared that there were two forms of bacteria of importance to the soil; the change of nitrogen in the soil in oval form and the fixing of nitrogen from the air. The explaining of the two forms was listened to by the three hundred horticulturalists present and the discussion lasted throughout the morning session and took up much of the afternoon session. In the afternoon Dr. Lipman further addressed the delegates on the "Development and Maintenance of Good Physical Soil Conditions," and "The Management of Citrus Orchard Soils During Spring and Summer."

BRITISHERS MARRY AND START ON WALK AROUND THE WORLD

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Harry Humphries and Elsie Kelsy were married at the City Hall yesterday by an alderman and started to walk around the world on their honeymoon tour. The couple were dressed lightly for their long tramp and each carried a small bag containing compact cooking utensils.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphries said they intended to walk until they were tired and then to sleep, either outdoors, in barns or hotels, wherever, in fact, circumstances find them. The first part of their journey will take them to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphries, who are subjects of Great Britain, are 27 and 21 years old, respectively.

CADILLAC WRECKED; DRIVER AND MECHANICIAN BY MERE CHANCE ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY

The 30-horse power Cadillac entered in the automobile races was wrecked at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the driver, Jack Haberman, and mechanic, C. L. Hickman, narrowly escaped with their lives. Neither man was seriously hurt.

Haberman reached the turn going at a speed close to a mile a minute, and hardly slackened his speed for the turn. The machine could not make the turn at that terrific speed, and went straight for the fence. Just off the edge of the track at the turn is a ditch, shallow and overgrown with weeds. This served to make the machine turn a complete somersault. Hickman jumped, and Haberman was thrown out of the car.

The front end of the machine struck the fence at an angle, tore a hole in the fence, just outside of which lies a newly completed canal of the Del Norte Drainage district. That the machine did not go straight through into the ditch was remarkable. A hole large enough to let it through was torn, but the impetus of the car caused it to whirl end for end and the rear end tore a second hole in the fence twenty feet east of the first. In that hole the wrecked Cadillac came to a standstill, one of the rear broken wheels hanging over the edge of the drainage ditch.

Haberman was picked up unconscious and bleeding, about twelve feet from the front end of the car.

Then Hickman, who had jumped, and who was thrown twenty feet into the air, landing beside the track, was the first man to the injured driver. Ten minutes later Haberman became conscious, he was taken immediately to a physician's office, where his injuries were attended to.

An ugly gash in the palm of his hand, a cut on the forehead, and numerous bruises and lacerations are the extent of the man's injuries. That he escaped with his life was mere luck.

Hickman has a skinned place on one knee, and has a few bruises, but he is otherwise unharmed.

The Cadillac's engine is uninjured. Two wheels were ripped off spokes and the frame of the machine was badly twisted. The damage done the car, which belonged to the Cadillac Garage, where Haberman and Hickman are employed, is between $250 and $350.

Register Will Receive Subscriptions for Families of Explosion Victims

In view of the fact that an awful crime, which is truly a public calamity, has been committed, and the families of a score of wage earners are left without means of support, the mayor of Los Angeles has appointed a committee of newspapers and banks which shall receive subscriptions for the families of those killed in the Times explosion.

The Register takes this means of announcing that subscriptions will be received at its offices in the Odd Fellows building and urges the people of this community to give as they are able for the assistance of the stricken widows and orphans whose husbands and fathers, respectively, have been slain by fiendish assassins perpetrating the most horrible crime ever recorded in Southern California.

The need is urgent. Entire families must be provided for.

Send or bring your subscriptions to The Register office and the money will be turned over to the sufferers through the banks which are members of the relief committee. All contributions will be acknowledged in the Register and the Los Angeles papers.

Trench Digging a Part of An Afternoon Drill—Camp Doings

CAMP ATASCADERO, Oct. 5.—In the morning the companies formed and with blanket rolls went out to pitch shelter halves and have extended order of work.

In the afternoon all companies went on a three mile hike, carrying entrenching tools. The company dug a trench four feet deep, three feet wide and 120 feet long. Several boys have taken cold since coming up here, but all improved very much.

Private McPhee is having all kinds of difficulties in getting enough to eat. Some of the papers have stated that there is booze in camp but that is an error on their part.

Company L is the largest in the regiment and also the largest in the state, of which the captain and men are very proud.

At the drills yesterday Major Vestal was very much complimented on the appearance of his battalion.

This morning we were out for a regimental drill for two hours, after which the boys of L. Company enjoyed boxing matches between company members.

The boys had good hot cakes for breakfast and Cook Brookins is voted an artist at making hot cakes.

IS CHOSEN NEW HEAD OF THE CHICO NORMAL SCHOOL

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.—Allison V. Ware, former professor in the San Francisco Normal School, who was defeated for the nomination for state superintendent of public instruction on the Republican ticket at the recent primary election, has been chosen by the board of trustees of the Chico State Normal to fill the office of president of that institution, left vacant through the recent dismissal of Professor C. C. Van Liew. Governor Gillett nominated a dark horse in the person of A. C. Barker, deputy superintendent of schools of Berkeley, and voted for him on all four ballots.

IN TIME
The mountaineer sat in his cabin,
The end of the day drew near,
He was reading an old newspaper,
"Ah!" he exclaims, "see here!"
"They are going to have a fair
Down in Santa Ana I see,
And I haven't seen anything like that Since 'way back in seventy-three."
"Now, the rub is how to get there—
If I ride a horse he's sure to shy,
And I can't get an auto up here,
Nor one of those things that fly.
"Ah! Tom Brown has a new wheel
that's fine,
And if I can get it that wheel is mine;
Though tomorrow's the last day, I trust fate
I can get it, then I'll not be too late."
On the morning of the last day
Of the Carnival so great,
Down Fourth street came the mountaineer—
You see, he was not too late.
It is true that his clothes were antiquated
And his manner somewhat shy,
But the wheel he rode was span and new
And for speed it could surely fly.
The spectators wondered
When an urchin hollered, "Oh, Beef!"
"Don't you know what wheel he's riding?
It's Bob Gerwing's wheel, the 'Chief.'"

DR. WORST CHOSEN BY DRY CONGRESS

Heads Farming Organization Which Will Hereafter be International

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 6.—Dr. J. H. Worst, president of the North Dakota Agricultural College, is to lead the International Dry Farming Congress for the coming year. The nominating committee announced yesterday its selection of Dr. Worst for president of the congress and it is expected the choice will be ratified without contest. Nine members of the committee are reported to have voted for Dr. Worst, and eight for Governor J. H. Brady of Idaho.

The outcome is considered a victory for the so-called "Agricultural college element," which favors emphasizing agricultural rather than political problems at the sessions of the congress.

Although the name of the Dry Farming Congress will not be changed as has been suggested, the word "international" will be put on the letter heads, and the N. D. Agricultural College letter heads, according to a ruling of the executive committee.

All delegates to the congress in future will be on an equal footing, and delegates from other countries will not be classed as foreigners.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVES FAIL

—In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:
Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure for all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.
WASH THE GERMS OUT.
A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.
A 25 cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief. * Wingood's Drug Store.

HOKE SMITH ELECTED AS GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Georgia proved true to the principles of the Democratic primary yesterday, rebuking the effort to defeat Hoke Smith, nominee for governor, by the use of Governor Joseph Brown, returning Smith a winner by a large majority.

Governor Brown, in the primaries, received the majority vote in 48 counties, but in the general election he carried only three—Douglas, Warren and Glascock.

Brown had not allied his candidacy for the governorship, but had been put in the race without his consent by Thomas Watson and other opponents of Hoke Smith.

Built in Detroit by Men Who Know How

The difference between the saucy K-R-I-T and other cars at a similar price is a difference in quality—a difference in value.

The K-R-I-T is long enough to insure easy riding, short enough to make a quick turn, light enough to insure greatest tire economy. It is an ideal machine for pleasure or business.

Its ball-bearing engine is of singularly compact design and is silent and smooth in operation.

The K-R-I-T was designed by Kenneth Crittenden, familiarly known to his friends as "Krit."

From start to finish the saucy K-R-I-T is built on lines endorsed by the world's best automobile engineers.

Phone us and we will come and show you.

The Car with the Invisible Start

In any class of cars there is bound to be one car that is pre-eminent the leader of that class.

The K-R-I-T assumes immediate leadership among cars selling for less than one thousand dollars, because in every detail of construction and design it is strictly First Quality.

You have only to compare to find out where the K-R-I-T is better and superior.

The beauty of the K-R-I-T is not only in its lines, its style, its finish and appointments—it goes deeper than that—

The real secret of K-R-I-T value is in the wonderful silent-running, powerful ball-bearing motor.

Test the K-R-I-T over any road. It will never disappoint you.

Let us tell you the good points of this car in detail.

PETERS STOPS RUNAWAY RIG

County Recorder Dragged by Frantic Horse Whose Bridle
Was Broken

George E. Peters, Orange county's general recorder, the man who can claim more friends, perhaps, than any other man in the county; the man who is so popular that no other man in the county would run against him for recorder, performed a deed this morning during the excitement attendant upon the parade, that proved him to be of such stuff as heroes are made of. When the band heading the parade struck up in front of the opera house, a horse hitched to a surrey started to run. Its first bound threw it to the pavement breaking its bridle off. Springing up it began to run madly toward the crowd wedged against the curb when Mr. Peters dashed forward, seized the infuriated animal by the nose and held on while the brute dragged him for fifty yards or more along the pavement. The horse ran in spite of Mr. Peters' efforts until he was completely choked down. Mr. Peters having retained his grip upon the creature's nose. There was no one in the surrey, but had it not been for Mr. Peters' ability and presence of mind in preventing the horse getting into the crowd what ended harmlessly might have been a very serious accident.

PORTUGAL IS PRO- CLAIMED A REPUBLIC

ism over the success of the revolutionists is boundless.

SPAIN PREPARING FOR VAST UPRISING

MADRID, Oct. 6.—Formidable military preparations have been made throughout Spain for the great uprising of Republican revolutionists, supported by clericals, which is bitterly opposing the king and king's cabinet. Plans for the anti-royalist demonstration have been discovered by government spies, and the greatest difficulty is anticipated in handling the agitators.

Casualties in Lisbon
BADAJOS, Spain, Oct. 6.—According to the refugees, it is estimated that Lisbon's casualties are two hundred killed and four hundred have been wounded. This estimate is reported as conservative and it is believed that later returns will swell the lists.

DON MIGUEL MAY GET IN LIMELIGHT

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A Reuters dispatch from San Sebastian says that King Manuel, with the exiled queen mother, passed through there this morning en route to France, traveling incognito. The whereabouts of the late king's uncle, the Duke of Oporto, are unknown. He has not been heard from since Tuesday morning, when he temporarily directed the Royalists in the Lisbon combat. Don Miguel, the pretender, who left Vienna recently, has not been heard from since. It is believed he learned about the uprising in advance, and is now conferring with adherents hoping to be enthroned to restore peace.

DYNAMITING OF PALACES HAVE BEEN RESORTED TO

MADRID, Oct. 6.—Dynamiting the Necessidades palace and the royal palace at Sanbura was resorted to today, says the Lisbon dispatches. Continued wire interruptions are construed here as meaning that fighting is progressing at Lisbon or adjacent provinces.

ALFONSO HAS FATAL DISEASE, SAYS DOCTOR

MADRID, Oct. 6.—According to a statement by high medical authorities, King Alfonso is fatally ill with a disease described as "caries of the bone," and a fatal termination is feared in the near future. The complaint involves bone decay. Dr. Moore, the celebrated Bordeaux physician, is able only to slightly retard the progress of the disease. One of the king's ears is affected, and one cheek bone, and a bone in the nose is gradually disintegrating. It has been known in official circles that King Alfonso has suffered from birth with a hereditary blood disorder, and that his outward healthy appearance has been maintained only by the strictest hygiene. The alarming state of the king's health greatly complicates the Spanish political situation.

FRANCE MAY GIVE HER RECOGNITION AT ONCE

PARIS, Oct. 6.—It is reported here unofficially that France is preparing to recognize the Portuguese Republic.

DIFFERENCE AS TO HIDING PLACE OF ROYALTY

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Central News Agency today says King Manuel is at the royal summer home at Cintra. The Marconi Press Agency says he is at Casaca, fifteen miles from Lisbon. Yesterday's report was that the queen mother was at Cintra also.

PAY OF RAILROADS FOR CARRYING MAILED IS CUT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Postmaster General Hitchcock yesterday issued an order cutting a big slice of money from the compensation allowed to land grant railroads for carrying the United States mail.

The original rate allowed these roads was $17.10 for each 2000 pounds carried in excess of 48,000 pounds. Mr. Hitchcock cut this to $15.39. This reduction comes after an exhaustive investigation of the actual cost of carrying the mail by the railroads.

There has been in congress, and outside, much adverse criticism of the heavy tax by railroads for carrying mails.

BUTTE'S POPULATION 39,165

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The population of Butte, Montana, is 39,165, according to the census bureau.

WOMAN TELLS OF HER OWN AND MANUEL'S SHAMEFUL LOVE

(Copyright by United Press Association.)

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—Mlle. Gaby des Lys, in an interview granted the United Press today, glorified her relations with Manuel, the deposed king. The young woman, who is the king's boyish heart, is appearing as a dancer at Apollo Theater here. Last night the theater was packed to the aisles with people wanting to see the danseuse.

"Yes, I was Manuel's mistress," said the danseuse. "I know of no disgrace in being a king's mistress, but consider it an everlasting disgrace to advertise that relationship, glorified as it was by love, which even court conventionality could not throttle. I don't make any capital of my relations with Manuel; I keep quiet and reserved. Recently a Paris variety theater offered me a huge salary to appear billed as King Manuel's mistress."

"I refused to accept the engagement. The theater then produced a sketch in which Manuel and I were the chief characters, but there was nothing blameable in that. I never asked the papers to call me 'Portugal's uncrowned queen.'"

"I first met the king fifteen months ago in Paris, where he dined. We were introduced after the performance, and it was a case of love at first sight, and I became his mistress. The love I bore him and the love he bore me justified all in our eyes. After the first meeting we met frequently. He came repeatedly to Paris to see me. We were happy together in those days. In February Manuel summoned me to Lisbon. I danced at a charity fair for the relief of the Oporto fire victims. I did not live in the royal suite, but stayed in a house nearby. The king paid me marked attention and remained in my company constantly. He even presented me to the queen mother."

"The Republican papers attacked me bitterly for going to Lisbon, and said the king haunted his mistress in his mother's face, after she had offered her life to save him when his father and brothers were assassinated."

"It is not true to say that I caused Manuel's downfall. He gave me only small presents, which even a poor man could have afforded. The king is a nice young man, and proved to be kind hearted. I saw the king in Paris in August. I had a long letter from him a few days ago, expressing joy at the prospect of seeing me in October in Paris."

TIMES DISASTER CLUES TIGHTENED

had recently gone to Los Angeles and were headed for Mexico. One of them remarked that once in Mexico they would be safe. He heard the names Morris and Bryson frequently, as though they were acquainted with them.

He states that the description of the men tallies with those appearing in newspaper. The sheriff's office was notified and Deputy Sheriff Hewins and two officers started in an automobile for the Guasti section this afternoon.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Detective Burns declared today that he would not take any side in the Times disaster controversy. He said he is here to catch the dynamiters and not to discuss the question of who committed the crime. He said:

"Whether the unionists perpetrated the outrage, or someone else, is not a question for my determination. I am here to get the dynamiters; that's what I am after. I will not be drawn into the controversy in any way."

CLAUS SPRECKELS WILL IS SMASHED

$5,000,000 to be Divided
Among Five Children of the Sugar Magnate

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The final shred of the will of the late Claus Spreckels, the sugar magnate, disinheriting his sons, John D. and Adolph B. Spreckels, was swept away by a decision of Judge J. V. Coffey yesterday. Under the decision rendered the estate, valued at approximately $5,000,000, and consisting of valuable realty holdings in this city, stocks and bonds, will be equally divided among the five children. It is announced that the decision will be appealed from.

CREWLESS WARSHIP RUN BY WIRELESS

Naval Wonder Can be Started, Stopped, Steered and Guns Controlled Within 18-Mile Radius

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The "crewless warship," a vessel directed and operated from shore by means of a complicated wireless apparatus, is the latest naval wonder in Germany, according to reports which have just reached navy men here.

Within a radius of eighteen miles from the controlling apparatus, the new warship, it is said, can be started, stopped, steered and its guns controlled or fired by means of electrical waves communicated without wires.

ROOSEVELT STARTS ON WESTERN CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Col. Roosevelt started for a three days Western trip. He will open the Missouri Republican campaign, speaking at Clayton, followed by a number of other political speeches. The insurgents who greeted Col. Roosevelt on his former trip, will attend the meetings. It is understood the insurgent leaders will confer at length with the Colonel on the whole insurgent question, also discussing the tariff law.

RECEIVED $1250 OF CRIPPEN REWARD

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Scotland Yard today paid Captain Kendall of the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, $1250 for his assistance in capturing Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve. Inspector Dew said Kendall's claim was substantiated, while the Montrose steward's claim was disallowed.

DOUBLE TRAITOR AZEFF HAS BEEN ASSASSINATED

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The Novoye Vremya yesterday reported that Evno Azeff, described both as the head of the fighting Russian socialists and as a political police spy, has been assassinated at Weisbaden.

BAEZA, Spain, Oct. 6.—A bomb exploded under a window of the mayor's office and badly damaged the town hall today. There were no casualties.

STANLEY KETCHEL HERO OF RUNAWAY

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 6.—Stanley Ketchel, the champion middleweight pugilist, was the hero today in an exciting runaway on the crowded street. While standing before the hotel, two driverless horses, hitched to a vehicle, headed for the sidewalk crowded with men, women and children. Ketchel caught the bridle of the nearest horse, and was dragged half a block over the rough street before the animals were stopped. The crowds cheered Ketchel.
